

Hammersmith and Fulham Adult Learning and Skills Service (HFALS) Subcontracting Supply-Chain Fees and Charging Policy 2023 - 2024

1. RATIONALE FOR SUBCONTRACTING

Hammersmith & Fulham Adult Learning & Skills Service (HFALS) is committed to broadening the scope of provision to meet market demand and to enhance and enrich the offer to our learners. In order to enable this vision, HFALS has taken the strategic decision to subcontract part of its provision to high quality partner providers.

The intention is to:

- Develop and expand the provision by supporting learners and employers with responsive, niche, specialist or local provision through a Subcontractor which is not delivered internally by HFALS.
- Offer programmes that optimise sustainable progression routes to other provision within HFALS
- Enable subcontracted provision in communities where HFALS has no physical presence, is hard to reach and that addresses gaps in provision.

The policy has been amended to comply with the latest GLA Funding Rules pertaining to the list of services HFALS will provide to Subcontractors and the associated cost for doing so.

HFALS will use its Subcontractors to maximise the impact and effectiveness of its service delivery to the learners and impact to local communities and businesses. HFALS will assume robust controls over Subcontracted provision to minimise any risk to its reputation, financial position and learners. HFALS retains full accountability for contract delivery where provision and service subcontracting occurs. Before contracts are awarded, HFALS undertakes robust due diligence procedures that include but not limited to:

- Financial viability

Subcontractors will be subject to on-going quality assurance checks, including short-notice premise/ classroom visits, interviews with staff/ learners, which could increase depending on risk. Outcomes should be in line with national benchmarks. This will ensure the programmes and learners meet the evidence requirements of the relevant funding regulations and the internal requirements of HFALS. Auditing will be through routine internal desktop evidence review and on-site visits which will validate learner existence, eligibility, attendance and funding documentation.

Visits may be increased dependent on risk. Regular interaction and reviews with Subcontractors will be required to ensure continuity of full audit and funding compliance.

Subcontractor financial performance against contractual targets will be reviewed and monitored on a monthly basis at minimum by a designated HFALS team assigned to the contract management of the individual Subcontractor relationship.

6. CLAWBACK/ PAYMENT TERMS/TIMINGS OF PAYMENTS

HFALS pays its Subcontractors monthly in arrears based on the actual performance of the sub-contractor capped on a monthly basis in line with the funding agency payment profile.

On a monthly basis HFALS receives the contractually agreed documentary evidence of activity from the partner and records this in its Management Information System.

At the agreed month-end cut-off date HFALS submits a claim for funding to the relevant funding agency which generates a report of the funding due to HFALS.

Using this data, HFALS applies the agreed management fee to the sub-contractor's activity and sends a detailed payment report to each partner within a structured timescale.

The partner then submits an invoice based on the agreed payment report which is processed for payment through BACS by HFALS to reach the partner by the end of the calendar month.

The standard schedule of dates is included in each sub-contractor's contract.

Where providers report late withdrawals, or for any other reason, there results in overpayments to the provider, HFALS will seek to recover any overpayment as part of the R14 year-end reconciliation process.

7. COMMUNICATION OF FEES AND CHARGES POLICY

The management fee retained by HFALS is calculated as a percentage of the contract value agreed with the Subcontractor. The typical percentage of fees retained HFALS to manage Subcontractors is 20% depending on a range of factors as indicated below. HFALS reserves to the right to reduce or increase the % outside of the aforementioned % threshold in exceptional circumstances and is subject to an Executive assessment of the proposed individual Subcontractor arrangement inclusive of the services and goods to be delivered and in accordance with HFALS strategic requirements and the relevant Funding Agency rules. This policy will be reviewed and updated annually or more frequently as required and published on the HFALS website. The management fee is open to negotiation and review by Subcontractors and the final fee is agreed by both parties in accordance with the relevant Funding Agency Rules. Fees and charges will be discussed at monthly contractual management meetings. Reasons for differences in fees charged Fees charged to individual providers will differ depending on the factors outlined in the calculation of management fee. The percentage retained may also vary where there are additional services provided by HFALS e.g., where the HFALS assumes direct responsibility for teaching certain aspects of t h e learners' programme of study or if less management support is needed on account of the Subcontractors specialist experience and expertise.
